RETURN TO THE LORD

Pastor David Deal

"... return to the Lord, your God, for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love ..."
(Joel 2:13, from the first reading for Ash Wednesday)

Return to the Lord? What does that mean? Does it mean that God has been absent from our lives? Or that we have taken a temporary leave of absence from a relationship with God?

NO! God has never left or deserted us. God has promised to be with us from the time of our baptism. God's grace is always available to us. Perhaps, what "return to the Lord" means is that we have rejected or failed to access God's amazing grace in our lives. We have attempted to keep our minds, our hearts, our choices,, our priorities separated from God. This has led to sin, brokenness, and happiness. But God has never left us.

During these 40 days of Lent, we have the opportunity to return to our baptismal promises and to recall the wonderful relationship God has established with us. God wants us to re-open our minds and hearts to God's will for us. Let me suggest that we begin to "return to the Lord" by regular worship, a daily life of prayer, Bible reading, and unselfish acts of service for those around us. In this way, we will all experience God's grace in deeper and more powerful ways.

Council Corner

After the second week in March, I will no longer be your congregational leader. According to our by-laws if you have served on council for six consecutive years you must come off of council. Since the president must be a member of council, this is the reason for my departure of this position. Even though I will no longer be your president, that does not mean that I will not continue to do my part to keep our church growing and doing God's work.

Over the last three years we have been through a lot together and I feel that we have worked well as a team to accomplish situations that at times seemed impossible to rectify. Remember the tax situation, the steeple problem, the need for a new roof and now the windows? On top of these big matters we had several insurance issues, septic problems, heater problems and other repairs and maintenance jobs to deal with. Our property committee and others in and outside the congregation have worked overtime to bring our church back to the beautiful building that has sat on top of this hill in Durham for almost 200 years lighting the way to God's love. But, we must always remember that the "church" is not the building. The "church" is the body of people sitting in the pews. We must go out into the world everyday and do God's work and spread the news that God loves all mankind. He also gives people who have made mistakes a second chance and His love is unconditional! That is real good news to anyone who feels unworthy or guilty for the way that they have behaved in their life. This is the job that God gives to us as Christians to do.

This message is carried forward not just in words, but more so in actions towards people who are down-trodden and feeling hopeless. God is love, and the love he gives to us is to be shared, to help others who do not feel love in their everyday lives.

I believe that God's first commandment is the most important one to remember. "Thou shall love the Lord your God with all of your heart and soul and love your neighbors as yourself". This, in my opinion, means that we have to love ourselves before we can reach out to our neighbors, both near and far. For these past several years we have been putting our own house "back in order". Unfortunately, it had deteriorated because of lack of enough people committed to help maintain it. The Sunday school had dwindled down to almost nothing because of lack of involvement from many young families. So many outside commitments came before God. Even our finances have been reduced due to the economy and lack of attendance to Sunday services. As our older members passed on new people have not joined us to fill the gap. Do not be discouraged because I feel that many of these problems are turning around and many of our prayers have been answered.

Our building, which is a symbol of God's love and presence here in Durham, is almost back to the beautiful façade it used to be, and is more inviting to the public. Thanks to all of you who helped with your good works and contributions to make this all possible. We still have more work to do, for instance, the blacktop needs to be repaired for insurance issues, but the building itself is now safe and sound.

Our biggest mission now is to reach out to family, friends and neighbors and invite them to join us. Perhaps you can invite them to one of our soup suppers, or an event such as our annual beef roast or upcoming Easter service. Any of these types of events can break the ice and let them know that we are good people and fun to be with. In this way they may want to join us for Sunday services and become a part of our caring "family".

Once people get the message that God loves them, and so do we, they may not hesitate to join us because every human being needs to be loved, each in their own way.

I hope and pray that you will all work as hard for whoever is chosen to be your new president as you have worked for me. Only with your help will this congregation grow and flourish into the future. Just remember to.....

Love always,
Lynn Gaun - Council president

Outreach - Helen Dungan

Christmas ingathering: We received a thank you letter from Lutheran Children and Family Service. "On behalf of the children in our care and the other recipients of the Christmas Ingathering, I would like to thank you and the members of Evangelical Lutheran Church for the very generous donations ,,, This Ingathering totaled over $120,365.00."

Easter hymning: Please join us on Palm Sunday (March 28th) as we share Easter music with our shut-ins. Lunch will be served in the fellowship hall following worship; then we will visit and sing with as many of our shut in members as we can. You do not have to be a great singer to join us (or I wouldn't be allowed to go!); just be willing to share the music of Holy Week and the joyful hymns of Easter.

Food: Thanks to everyone who contributed to Souper Bowl of Caring; and especially to Cheryl Mesko for coordinating it. The food was split between the Easton and Upper Bucks food banks.

It is a tradition at Durham to place food baskets rather than flowers on the altar during Lent. If you would be willing to sponsor one, there is a sign up sheet on the bulletin board in the narthex. You can either purchase food yourself or commission me to be your shopper. Cost is about $25, the same price as the flowers.

There is also a basket in the narthex for individual food donations. The need is great.

final figures are not yet available for the February soup supper, but we did very well. A big thank you to everyone who helped; especially Esther Crouse, Diane DeWalt and Mark Harwick, our chief chefs. Thanks to Myron Kressman who donated the stewing chickens; and to Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers who donated the onions and sal-tines. Many people peeled, chopped, baked, washed dishes and pots and pans, served, set up and took down, and cleaned. Thanks to all of you; this is a huge undertaking which couldn't happen without all of your help.

We are missing our food processor and one of our 30 quart soup pots. If you know anything about there whereabouts, please speak to Helen Dungan or Esther Crouse. We would particularly like to know if anyone saw them in the church after the break-in.

Palisades Cluster News - Helen Dungan

One of the goals for the cluster during 2010 is to implement a Parish Nurse ministry. The next Parish Nurse meeting will be Sunday, March 7th at 3:30 PM at Christ Lutheran Church (353 E. Dark Hollow Road) in Pipersville.

Another of our goals for 2010 is to look at our evangelism activities. One suggested question to frame our discussions is change: Where do we see our churches being in 3, 5, or 10 years. How will we change? How will our communities be changing? How do we better reach out to and serve our community? If you are interested in these questions, please join in the discussion. The next meeting of the Cluster is March 21st at 3:30 p.m. at St Luke's Lutheran Church Ferndale and the main topic being discussed will be our evangelism plans / needs.

Humor ...

GOOD SAMARITAN

A Sunday school teacher was telling her class the story of the Good Samaritan. She asked the class, 'If you saw a person lying on the roadside, all wounded and bleeding, what would you do?' A thoughtful little girl broke the hushed silence, 'I think I'd throw up.'

HIGHER POWER

A Sunday school teacher said to her children, 'We have been learning how powerful kings and queens were in Bible times. But, there is a Higher Power. Can anybody tell me what it is?' One child blurted out, 'Aces!'

CHRISTMAS

A Sunday School teacher asked her class why Joseph and Mary took Jesus with them to Jerusalem. A small child replied, 'They couldn't get a baby-sitter.'

10 COMMANDMENTS

A Sunday school teacher was discussing the 10 Commandments with her 5 and 6 year olds. After explaining the commandment to 'Honor thy father and thy mother,' she asked, 'Is there a commandment that teaches us how to treat our brothers and sisters?' One little boy answered, 'Thou shall not kill.'

Souper Bowl of Caring Update -

Cheryl Mesko

THANK YOU to Katie Aquino and her family for their work at the Williams Township Elementary School. They collected 121 non-perishable food items. We collected 271 food items and $124 at Durham Church. My appreciation to the congregation and thanks to all the helpers who counted cans and loaded them into my car. Thank you!!

WELCA ~ Helen Dungan

During our February meeting we watched a video, ate popcorn (and other nice snacks) and had a brief business meeting to organize for the February soup supper. Barbara Naska agreed to serve as our delegate to the Southeastern PA Synodical convention in June.

The program for our March meeting deals with women and unemployment; the leader is Helen Dungan, and the hostess is Althea Crouse. Our main order of business for our March meeting is spending the soup supper money. Please join us as we look at a troubling issue, share fellowship and give away money.

The Upper Bucks Conference WELCA Spring gathering is on April 24th at Christ, Traubauersville,

The Southeastern PA Synod WELCA convention will be held June 19, 2010 at Trinity, Lansdale. The theme is 'Seasoned with Salt' (Colossians 4:6). This is a gathering of all the women in the Synod and will include a worship service, speakers, a service project, and business meeting. Cost is $30 and includes lunch. If you are interested in attending, speak to Helen Dungan.

Highlights from the Annual Congregational Meeting, 2/21/10

1. Sue Kehler was elected to Church Council.
2. Tom and Lynn Gaun were elected as delegates to the May 7-8 Annual Synod Assembly at Franconia Mennonite Church.
3. The Treasurer' and Financial Secretary's reports were approved, including a Financial Audit completed for fiscal year 2009.
4. The gifts of time, talent, and treasure of every member of the congregation was recognized. Lynn Gaun presented angel bells to the members who were present at the meeting.
5. The results from the recent congregational survey were presented. There were lots of good ideas, including a suggestions box, which has already been placed in the narthex.
6. Lynn Gaun has volunteered to chair the planning committee for our 2012 200th Anniversary. She will need lots of people and ideas to bring about a wonderful celebration.
7. There was discussion of what should be done with the parsonage land in Springtown. A large piece of land just being the parsonage lawn off of Center St. has been farmed for years by a wonderful Springtown resident. His now physically unable to keep on with the work required. A community garden was one suggested use. If you have any interest or ideas about what to do with this land, please speak to the Pastor or Church Council.

“We thank you, gracious God, for the freedom we have to practice and live our faith. We pray for our brothers and sisters around the world who do not have that freedom, for our fellow Christians who find themselves persecuted for seeking to follow you. Strengthen them with courage, with discernment, and with faith. Make us more and more aware of your body -- the Church. Amen “

Please speak to the pastor before the service if you have someone you would like him to lift up in prayer. To place someone on the Prayer List, call the Church Office. For urgent prayer needs, start the Prayer Chain by calling Virginia Hager. Please make updates to Prayer List in the Narthex on the condition of anyone you've placed on the list. If you are on the Prayer List and are ready to be removed, please let us know!

For reasons of confidentiality, the web edition of our newsletter does not contain individual names on the prayer list.

Prayers for those with whom our church has a special relationship: our Prayer Partners, Bridge of Peace Lutheran Church in Camden, NJ — our Companion Synod, the North East Diocese of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Tanzania. Please offer a special prayer for the people of the Holy Land on the 9th day of this and every month.

THANK-YOU . . .

- Ruth Behm wishes to thank Pastor for his hospital and Phoebe visits and everyone for their cards and prayers.
- Ron Everitt would like to thank everyone for the phone calls, get-well cards, and concern during his mom's illness. He would also like to thank everyone for their expressions of sympathy and caring during his bereavement.

Care-A-Lot News

Believe it or not, spring is almost here! March will be a busy month here at Care-A-Lot. The children will be learning about Working Together in class, as well as with our Spark bible stories from Pastor Dave. The Blue Whale class will get to be the lead scientist this month as they each bring in their own experiment to do with the class. Both classes will be learning about sizes and measurements.

Another focus this month is on animals. The Green turtle class will get to bring in an example of their favorite animal for Tell and Show. This is a twist on the traditional Show and Tell. The children will give their friends 3 clues and have them guess what they brought. Each child will also get to make their own animal and learn a little about sewing at the same time!

We will be having our St. Patrick's Day Celebration as well as our annual Easter Egg Hunt. We will also be dyeing Easter eggs and learning why we celebrate Easter.

We are hoping to get out on the playground this month, so think warm thoughts!

Love, Mrs. Heinemann, Mrs. Prudish and Mrs. Hower

ELCA Pastor Says Hope and Faith Overshadowed Death in Haiti

CHICAGO (ELCA) - The Rev. Douglas A. Hill, a pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA), was walking in the town of Jacmel, Haiti, when the earthquake struck the Caribbean nation Jan. 12. Only 10 kilometers from the quake's epicenter, Hill suddenly found himself surrounded by death and ruin.

"We heard a big rumble and people screaming. The rumble felt like it lasted forever, but it was only 45 seconds," Hill told the ELCA News Service. Hill and his companions began searching for people. "All of our people were fine."

Hill was in Haiti leading a group of 11 seminary students on a January term theology course coordinated by Abiding Hope Lutheran Church, Littleton, Colo. Hill is a pastor of the congregation. Abiding Hope provides immersion experiences in Haiti for intern and seminary students attending the eight seminaries of the ELCA.

The group arrived Jan. 11 in Port-au-Prince. They spent their first evening at Wings of Hope, an orphanage for special needs children. The next day they traveled to Jacmel, where the group spent the day visiting the Trinity House, an orphanage for boys and school for the poor in Jacmel, and Pazapa, another school.

After the visits, "we went back to our hotel in Jacmel and sat at the bar with our Haitian friends, talking politics. Then some of us went for a walk in the streets a block from the Bay of Jacmel, looking at Haitian art in the many shops and galleries, when the earthquake hit," said Hill.

"We ran up the hill to the square after the earthquake, because water from the bay started coming up the street. (At) the square, the majority of our group watched people die," Hill said.

"People who were wounded were being carried on doors. Our students watched people die right in front of them. It was terrible, absolutely horrible," he said.

"I had gone back to the hotel at that time, retrieving the rest of the group and digging out Alexandra, the hotel cook. Our hotel was La Florita, and it had collapsed," said Hill.

The group returned to the Trinity House for shelter. "When we got there the boys were outside singing, 'How Great Thou Art' in Creole. We joined them, singing in English," Hill said. "We stayed there a short while when someone brought word that there was a risk of a tsunami, so we went to the Jacmel airport. There we became refugees with the Haitian people and lived on peanut butter, bread and then bananas."

"The Haitians took care of us," said Hill. "They are beautiful people. They welcomed us as brothers and sisters. In the refugee area, we slept and lived with the Haitian people for two days. We didn't provide care for anyone; they provided care for us there," he said.

Two days later United Nations officials moved Hill and his group to a hotel in Jacmel. "We ran out of food and water there. We had Haitian friends that brought us food, and we shared what we had with hotel staff," said Hill.

"On Saturday morning (Jan. 16), our Haitian friends got us two fishing boats. We rode these to the border of Haiti and the Dominican Republic. At one point on the boat trip we ran out of gas, marooned for about an hour and a half before help came," Hill said.

Once ashore the group spent the night at the border. In the morning they walked across the border and took a five-hour bus ride, passing through various military check points.

"The border was heavily guarded, since the Dominican Republic feared that Haitians would storm (across) the border," said Hill. Once they arrived in Santo Domingo, they made flight arrangements to return home. "Some of our group flew out on Monday, and the rest went home on Tuesday," he said.

"Our ordeal was one thing, but I don't want to draw attention to us," Hill told the ELCA News Service. "The focal point here is the hope, peace, faith and the pursuit of life around us that overshadowed the death and destruction we saw."

"We encountered friendliness and kindness from everyone we met. Haitians are strong people, full of hope," said Hill. "I am incredibly humbled by the depth and strength of the people in Haiti."

Hill said he hopes the seminary students on the trip will view their experiences as the "Kingdom of God being revealed. You can't teach the kingdom, it has to be revealed."

"We went to Haiti to walk with our Haitian brothers and sisters, and we are changed from the experience. In Haiti you see God being present with people," said Hill. "I look at my experience through the lens of (Christ's) Resurrection. The Haitians are not dwelling on the devastation. They're dwelling on the new life that will come out of this," he said.
